From full floor master suites to soaking bath tubs steps away from the bed, these master bedrooms rival a hotel suite any day, providing home-owners with the ultimate sanctuary. Here are a few of them which we love.

15 Jay, the latest loft condominium conversion tucked away in the Tribeca West Historic District is comprised of five gracefully appointed homes. The penthouse duplex features a full floor master suite that boasts two private large terraces, a great walk in closet with a separate dressing room, and a master bath with a free-standing tub – and that’s all just on the top floor!

90 Morton, the boutique state-of-the-art condominium conversion located in the West Village neighborhood has the penthouse priced at $37.5 million with a master suite that boast his and hers walk-in closets, a master bathroom and a 2,283 square-foot private terrace – that’s larger than some full homes alone – talk about jaw dropping!

The Upper Penthouse master suite at Oceana Bal Harbour includes its own private spa room, allowing the homeowner to be pampered with the ultimate spa experience just steps from their bed. The exquisite beachfront master suites also boast floor-to-ceiling windows, extra deep balconies, European wet bathrooms, lofty 10-foot ceilings, expansive walk-in his and her closets, a private gym and sauna and a gallery-like openness to feature favorite art and furnishings. Oceana Bal Harbour is complete with flow-through residences and 360-degree views.

The Cove, A Ritz-Carlton Reserve Residence at Caroline Bay, Bermuda, a 182-acre luxury, master-planned destination, has a master suite that offers ultra-luxury features such as a full fireplace and a master bathroom with retractable doors that reveal a personal soaking tub mere steps away from the foot of the bed. The suite also boasts direct access to a plunge pool on the private terrace. Each suite is situated to take full advantage of Bermuda’s breathtaking views—pink sands and crystal-clear water are almost at your fingertips.

Raising the standard in luxury living with expansive floor plans and unique layouts, The Ritz-Carlton Residences, Miami Beach features a $40 million-dollar penthouse complete with an over-the-top master suite designed by Master Italian Architect Piero Lissoni. The master suite features two power rooms, his and her studios and two private plunge pools. Residents will not only enjoy elevated views and additional living space, but also the development’s services all managed by the world’s leading hospitality brand, The Ritz-Carlton.
